Introduction

This certification program qualifies participants as a Certified Corporate Trainer (CCT) ® upon successful completion.

Corporate training is a part of human resource management for providing the organization's employees with the knowledge and skills required to be successful in their role. The growth of employees also contributes to the success of the business. Training and development involves improving the effectiveness of organizations and the individuals and teams within them. Corporate training program delivery needs a skilled corporate trainer who communicates well, knows how learners "learn", and have skills and knowledge about the course to be taught.

This course ends with an assessment on the last day to obtain the certification. To increase the probability of success, the activities in the course include role-plays, videos, self-assessment exercises, and questionnaires. Moreover, participants will take away templates and frameworks they can use within the system that already exists at their workplace.

Objectives

The objective of the Certified Corporate Trainer training is to;

- Take on the role of a trainer for a large organization by grasping the various facets of training.
- Differentiate in today's competitive job market, broaden their employment opportunities by displaying their advanced corporate training skills, and result in higher earning potential.

Target Groups
